The ORNAA Promising Star Award

Criteria*

The nominee demonstrates professional attributes that reflect the competencies for Perioperative Registered Nursing Practice at a beginner or intermediate level (defined by ORNAC mod.1 p. 39). For detailed description of these competencies refer to:

Operating Room Nurses Association of Canada (ORNAC). (2003). Recommended Standards, Guidelines, and Position Statements for Perioperative Registered Nursing Practice. Module 1, pp. 38-46. Toronto: Author.

NOTE: It is not necessary to provide examples for every possible point.

The ORNAA Awards Selection Committee will look for specific examples of how the nominee:

- a) Practices professionally. (/11)
- b) Provides physical patient care while practicing in the circulating nurse role and the scrub nurse role. (/23)
- c) Provides supportive care to patients and to health care team members. (/12)
- d) Provides a safe environment to patients and health care team members. (/13)
- e) Responds to urgent/emergency situations. (/4)
- f) Manages resources. (/11)

Total Possible Points (/74)

Nominees are judged using an objective point system. One point will be given for each example submitted that reflects an ORNAC competency. Each category (a-f above) is rated according to the number of practice competencies detailed by ORNAC, 2003, pp. 42-45.

- The nominator must provide clear concrete examples of how the nominee fulfills the above criteria. To aid this process, refer to;

Operating Room Nurses Association of Canada (ORNAC). (2003). Recommended Standards, Guidelines, and Position Statements for Perioperative Registered Nursing Practice. Module 1, pp. 38-46. Toronto: Author.

- The award selection will be made by the ORNAA Awards Committee based on the accompanying score sheet.
- Nominations must be received by May 1st.
